

The Alameda County Board of Supervisors and the Alameda County Library are proud to announce the opening of the Castro Valley Library!

The new Library includes areas for socializing, brings children to reading early in life, and offers a pleasant, warm ambience and a sense of community. The library is a place for community art and gatherings and as a center for technology, as well as vital partner with schools and other community organizations that offer programs promoting its mission and contributing to lifelong learning, community dialogue and freedom of expression.

The new Library is located at 3600 Norbridge Avenue in Castro Valley. For more information, please visit www.aclibrary.org
